INCOME CASES ARE APPEALED

11. That said Income Tax law authorizes taxation which is not uniform and is not proportionate taxation within the Territory of Hawaii, and, therefore, is inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States.

The reasons given by the plaintiff corporation differ only in the first two provisions, which are as follows:

1. The provisions taxing corporations on total net income without the exemption of the $1,000 allowed individuals is inconsistent with the fourteenth or fifth amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

2. The provision totally exempting insurance companies on a percentage of the premiums under the authority of another act is an unwarranted discrimination and inconsistent with the fourteenth or fifth amendments of the Constitution of the United States.

The petition is signed by A. S. Hartwell and Smith & Lewis for plaintiffs and by Robertson & Wilder for defendant.

The case will be argued before the Supreme Court Monday afternoon or Tuesday, the habeas corpus cases having been given the right of way.

SPECIAL JURY IS CALLED

The special jury to hear the cases of the seamen now held for various offenses was called yesterday morning by Judge Estee.

The members from Hawaii did not appear, but will come into court this morning. Wm. Woon, a British subject, was excused. Colonel Allen, Geo. W. Smith and W. H. Barth were also excused. The remaining members of the jury were notified to appear in court Tuesday morning.

In the afternoon the case of Muck Chow was called. This is another deportation case wherein the defendant failed to return within the year granted by his certificate.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The Supreme Court handed down an opinion yesterday sustaining the First Circuit Court in the case of H. M. Mist vs. Kapialani Estate, a suit for ejectment wherein the defense of adverse possession was set up. The court sustains the verdict for the plaintiff in an opinion written by Judge Galbraith. The salient points of the ruling are given in the syllabus as follows:

"In an action of ejectment for the possession of a tract of land, a deed in the chain of plaintiff's title containing a recital that the grantor was the brother and only surviving relative of the patentee of the land, was properly admitted in evidence after the relationship and death of the parties had been established by evidence alunde.

An exception that attempts to embrace the objections to numerous rulings of the court on the admission of evidence, held to be too general and indefinite to require consideration by the appellate court.

The judgment of the court in a jury waived case will not be disturbed where there is evidence to support it and no prejudicial error of law appears.
